Ultra-slim premium leather folio for protection without bulk
Made from high-quality leather, SurfacePad covers the front and back of your iPad Air 2 while preserving its slim profile. Instead of enclosing the device in a rigid plastic shell, the folio follows its clean lines without adding unnecessary bulk.

Multiple viewing angles and a built-in typing wedge
SurfacePad folds into a stable stand with multiple viewing angles for watching films, presenting slideshows or browsing the web. For typing, taking notes or sketching, fold the cover into a low-angle wedge for a more comfortable working position.

Soft lining to help protect your iPad display
The soft lining inside the front cover cushions the iPad Air 2 display and helps protect it from scratches, dust and minor bumps when closed. The smooth interior complements the leather exterior and keeps the screen covered when you carry your iPad in a bag or backpack.

Smart cover functionality: automatically wakes your iPad Air 2 and puts it to sleep
Open the front cover to wake your iPad Air 2 instantly. Close it to put the device into standby, helping conserve battery power and keeping the screen out of sight.

Adhesive, shell-free design that removes cleanly and leaves the iPad's edges visible
SurfacePad adheres directly to the back of your iPad Air 2 without a rigid shell, leaving the bevelled edge visible to preserve the device's original look. If you need to switch to another case, such as a waterproof or rugged option, simply peel SurfacePad off and reattach it later. It removes without leaving sticky residue or marks.
