

Twelve South Curve for MacBook desktop stand for laptops - Matte black

Introducing the Twelve South Curve for MacBook desktop laptop stand in Matte Black - An elegant, ergonomic, and efficient desk solution. Crafted from premium aluminium with meticulous attention to detail, this stand raises your MacBook above the desk. It creates a comfortable setup and transforms your workspace into a stylish, minimalist area.

- Ergonomic Design
- Versatile Functionality
- Improved Airflow
- Ease of Use
- Superior Aesthetic and Build

Ergonomic design

The Twelve South Curve stand aims to provide comfort and increased productivity when you work. By raising your MacBook screen to an optimal height of 6.5 inches and at a 25-degree tilt, the stand aligns it ergonomically, thus reducing strain on your neck and shoulders and enhancing your viewing experience.

Versatile functionality

Multipurpose in design, this stand is the perfect companion for your dual-screen workstation setup. It can comfortably hold any MacBook model and other laptop brands, allowing for remarkable flexibility.

Improved airflow

Another significant advantage of the Curve stand is that it raises the MacBook off the desk, improving airflow around your device. This elevation significantly enhances your MacBook's performance by preventing overheating and providing a smoother computing experience.

Ease of use

The Curve Stand understands your need for ease and speed. When it's time to get mobile, unplug your MacBook and roll it out. The stand tirelessly holds the fort behind it, doubling as a riveting piece of sculpture, making the aesthetic transition between work time and downtime gracefully seamless.

Superior aesthetic and build

Not merely functional, this matte black stand is a thing of beauty. Its sculpted aluminium design, paired with its simplistic, elegant curve, is sure to add a touch of sophistication to your workspace, making it more than just a utility product.
