Full-size wired layout with numeric keypad and navigation keys
The Satechi Slim LX3 provides a complete typing setup with a dedicated number pad and navigation keys, giving you efficient access to shortcuts, data entry and document navigation without reaching for the mouse.

Slim, durable design made for everyday desk use
A low-profile build with a sturdy, desk-friendly frame keeps your workspace clean and organised. The slim silhouette complements modern monitors and laptops while staying stable during long work sessions.

Compatible with macOS, Windows, ChromeOS and iPadOS
Made for Mac and Windows. Flip the OS switch to reconfigure the keyboard for Mac or Windows—keys and controls align instantly.

USB-C connection with included USB-A adapter
The integrated USB-C cable connects directly to modern devices, while the included USB-A adapter ensures compatibility with older ports. No drivers, no pairing, just plug in and start typing.

Quiet scissor key mechanism for precise feedback
Scissor switches deliver smooth, consistent keystrokes with minimal noise, making the LX3 well suited for shared offices, meetings and focused work at home.
