Twelve South HiRise Pro iMac Stand - Gunmetal gray

Create a more comfortable, organised workspace with HiRise Pro from Twelve South. This height-adjustable metal stand raises your iMac or Apple Display to eye level and provides hidden storage for drives, hubs and everyday essentials. Designed for models with an L-shaped stand, it helps you find a comfortable screen height and keep your desktop tidy.

- Raises your iMac or Apple Display to eye level
- Hidden storage keeps your desktop tidy
- Adjustable internal support shelf for precise height alignment
- Designed for all iMac and Apple Display models with an L-shaped stand
- Solid metal construction with perforated, magnetic faceplates

Raises your iMac or Apple Display to eye level
HiRise Pro raises your display to a more comfortable viewing height, helping you sit upright and reduce neck and back strain during long work sessions. Instead of tilting a low screen upwards, you can adjust its height to suit your posture and workspace.

Hidden storage keeps your desktop tidy
A concealed compartment behind the perforated front and rear panels provides space for backup hard drives, USB hubs, a Mac mini or personal items such as your wallet, keys and phone. The panels allow airflow to help keep electronics cool, while keeping cables and accessories out of sight.

Adjustable internal support shelf for precise height alignment
The sturdy metal support shelf has six positions, so you can adjust the height of your iMac or Apple Display to suit your setup. Choose a higher position for a standing desk, a lower position for seated use, or align your iMac with a second screen, such as a Thunderbolt Display. Your display's stand rests securely on the internal shelf, rather than on top of the outer frame.

Designed for all iMac and Apple Display models with an L-shaped stand
HiRise Pro fits all iMac and Apple Display models with Apple's classic L-shaped stand, including the Thunderbolt Display and 27-inch (approximately 68.6 cm) iMac. The internal support structure holds the stand securely, while the robust metal frame supports larger models. Its understated design complements Apple's aesthetic.

Solid metal construction with perforated, magnetic faceplates
HiRise Pro has a solid, two-piece metal outer frame. The perforated front and rear faceplates provide ventilation and attach magnetically for easy access to the storage compartment. Optional screw fastening offers a more permanent, secure fit. Low-friction Teflon sliders on the underside let you smoothly pivot and reposition your iMac without scratching your desk, making it easier to adjust the viewing angle or share your screen during meetings.
