Twelve South iPad Air 2 folio case - Camel Camel

Give your iPad Air 2 the protection it deserves without hiding its beautiful design. The Twelve South SurfacePad is a luxury leather folio case that keeps your iPad slim, stylish and always ready to work, watch or create with multiple viewing angles and an integrated writing wedge.

- Ultra-slim luxury leather folio that protects without bulk
- Multiple viewing angles and built-in writing wedge
- Soft, protective lining for your iPad display
- Smart cover functionality: wake and sleep your iPad Air 2
- Adhesive, shell-free design that removes cleanly and shows off the iPad

Ultra-slim luxury leather folio that protects without bulk
SurfacePad for iPad Air 2 is designed for those who want premium protection without turning their iPad into a thick, rubberized brick. Crafted from high-quality leather, this folio covers both the front and back of your iPad Air 2 while preserving its slim, elegant profile. It follows the clean lines of your device instead of enclosing it in hard plastic, so your iPad still feels like an iPad – just dressed in refined leather.

Multiple viewing angles and built-in writing wedge
Whether you are watching a movie, presenting a slideshow, or browsing the web, SurfacePad quickly folds into a stable stand with multiple viewing angles. Need to take notes or sketch? Simply adjust the cover into the low-angle writing wedge for a more comfortable typing and drawing position. One case gives you flexible, hands-free use for work, travel or relaxing on the sofa.

Soft, protective lining for your iPad display
Inside the front cover, a soft lining gently cushions and protects the iPad Air 2 display from scratches, dust and minor bumps when the case is closed. Your screen stays shielded inside a smooth, tailored interior that complements the premium leather exterior, so you can confidently slip your iPad into a bag or backpack.

Smart cover functionality: wake and sleep your iPad Air 2
SurfacePad is designed to work just like a smart cover. Open the front flap and your iPad Air 2 wakes instantly, ready for action. Close it and the iPad returns to standby, saving battery and keeping your content out of sight. This seamless interaction makes everyday use faster and more intuitive, while ensuring your device is protected whenever you are on the move.

Adhesive, shell-free design that removes cleanly and shows off the iPad
Instead of snapping your iPad Air 2 into a rigid shell or trapping it inside a bulky plastic case, SurfacePad gently adheres to the back of your device. This unique, shell-free design leaves the beautiful beveled edge of the iPad exposed, showcasing its original look. When you need a different case, for example a waterproof or rugged option, you can simply peel SurfacePad off and reattach it later. It leaves no sticky residue or marks behind, just the clean surface of your iPad.
