ALOGIC Elements HDMI Cable with 4K Support - 3m - Male to Male is a Premium High Speed HDMI cable built for reliable 4K performance, smooth playback, and dependable everyday use at home or in professional setups. With a flexible 3 m cable and durable, low-profile connectors, it’s designed to install easily and keep performing over time.

- Premium High Speed HDMI for full 18 Gbps bandwidth
- Supports 4K at higher refresh rates for smoother video
- Flexible 3 m cable for easier installation
- Low-profile, PVC-moulded connectors built for frequent use
- Lifetime warranty and 100% recyclable packaging

Premium High Speed HDMI for full 18 Gbps bandwidth
Many HDMI 2.0 cables don’t deliver the full bandwidth required for Premium High Speed performance. This cable is designed to support up to 18 Gbps, helping ensure your display receives the signal it needs for high-quality 4K video and audio.

Supports 4K at higher refresh rates for smoother video
With the bandwidth to support 4K at refresh rates above 30 Hz on compatible equipment, this cable is a strong choice for smooth video playback and responsive gaming, reducing the risk of stutter caused by cable limitations.

Flexible 3 m cable for easier installation
The Elements series is engineered for practical setups in homes and workplaces. The 3 m length gives you the reach to connect devices across desks, cabinets, or wall-mounted displays, while the flexible cable design helps with routing and cable management.

Low-profile, PVC-moulded connectors built for frequent use
The cable features low-profile connectors that are comfortable to grip and easy to plug in, while remaining robust enough for high-traffic environments where devices are connected and disconnected regularly.

Lifetime warranty and 100% recyclable packaging
Designed with long-term use in mind, this cable is backed by a lifetime warranty. It also ships in 100% recyclable packaging, supporting more sustainable purchasing and disposal practices.
