- Cutting-edge HDMI V2.1 Compliance
- Next-Generation 8K@60Hz Resolution
- Backward Compatibility with Previous HDMI Standards
- Robust Build Quality with Enhanced Durability
- High Dynamic Range (HDR) for Impeccable Contrast and Detail

HDMI V2.1 Compliance: The Gateway to Ultra High-Definition

Embrace the HDMI 2.1 standard with the Alogic Super Ultra HD 8K HDMI Cable, which offers an unprecedented 48Gbps bandwidth. This means your 8K content will be transferred with unbeatable precision and without compromise, ensuring your viewing experience is as the creator intended.

Next-Generation 8K@60Hz Resolution: Visual Excellence Redefined

With the Alogic Super Ultra HD cable, your screen can exhibit resolutions of 8K@60Hz or even 4K@120Hz. This level of detail provides life-like images for gaming, professional video editing, or simply a cinematic evening at home. The splendour of ultra-high definition is truly at your fingertips.

Backward Compatibility: A Cable That Knows No Bounds

Regardless of your HDMI device's age, this cable is designed to serve the past, present, and future. It effortlessly connects to any HDMI-enabled device, guaranteeing you the versatility to enjoy your content without limitation.

Robust Build Quality: Withstanding the Test of Time

Encased in a thermoplastic jacket and reinforced with a synthetic fibre core, the Alogic Super Ultra HD cable is built to last. Even the connectors are gold-plated to resist corrosion, ensuring your cable remains as reliable as the day it was first plugged in.

High Dynamic Range (HDR): A Symphony of Colours

This HDMI cable's HDR capability unveils a world where whites are brighter, blacks are more profound, and the full spectrum of colours bursts forth with unprecedented clarity. Audio, too, benefits from the full-resolution transmission, providing a feast for the senses.
