Highly Advanced DisplayPort V1.4 Technology

The ALOGIC Ultra Cable harnesses the power of the latest VESA DisplayPort 1.4 specifications to ensure you get the highest bandwidth and feature support. Enjoy features like High Bit Rate 3 (HBR3), delivering a bandwidth of 32.4 Gbps, Dynamic HDR for vivid colors, and state-of-the-art display technologies such as DSC and FEC, ensuring your video remains clear and accurate.

Unprecedented 8K@60Hz Video Resolution

Take your visual experience to the next level with this cable's support for 8K resolution at 60Hz. Providing four times the resolution of 4K, this ALOGIC Ultra cable ensures the crispest and most detailed picture for your movies, games, and professional applications. It's also compatible with other resolutions and refresh rates, making it a versatile addition to your setup.

Premier Build Quality for Durability

The ALOGIC Ultra range stands for exceptional quality. This cable features a core reinforced with synthetic fiber and a protective TPE jacket to withstand wear and tear. The construction is further solidified with a metal alloy housing on the cable heads, which adds a layer of durability where it counts, ensuring your cable lasts for years to come.

Designed for Convenience

ALOGIC is committed to functional design. Featuring a latching connector with an easy-release button, the cable promises a secure connection that won't come loose accidentally. This design enables one-handed operation and makes it simpler to connect to your monitor or display in cramped quarters without fumbling.

Broad Compatibility and Versatility

This cable isn't just about superior display—it also cares for your audio needs. With support for up to 32 uncompressed digital audio channels, you can enjoy an immersive audio experience. Additionally, it's HDCP 2.2 compliant, letting you view content with high-bandwidth digital copy protection.
