Premium Aluminum Construction
Just Mobile AluDisc has been meticulously crafted from high-quality aluminum and robust ABS plastic to not only complement the stylish design of your Apple iMac or Thunderbolt Display but also to ensure longevity and durability. Its superior build quality guarantees that your AluDisc is an investment that will outlast the rest.

Universal Compatibility
Boasting a versatile foundation, the AluDisc is well-suited for all flat computers and monitors, making it a universal accessory for your tech setup. Its one-size-fits-all design ensures that you can pair it with any brand, thus simplifying your choices and guaranteeing a match for your device.

Fluid 360° Rotation
Experience an unparalleled range of motion with the AluDisc's 360-degree rotation feature. The smooth-turning ball bearing mechanism incorporated into the unit allows for effortless screen sharing, angle adjustments, and versatile positioning to cater to your viewing preferences.

Easy Access to Ports
Whether you're planning to share content with colleagues or simply enjoy a personalized viewing angle, the AluDisc offers effortless access to your screen's USB and Thunderbolt ports. This easy accessibility makes it a breeze to connect devices without the hassle of moving or adjusting your screen setup.

Modern Minimalist Design
The AluDisc embodies a minimalist design ethos that complements today's modern workspace. With its elegant lines and a clean aluminum finish, it doesn't just add function to your desk; it also enhances its overall look, ensuring that your workspace remains sleek and sophisticated.
