Made to last for light, comfortable travel

The Mujjo folio sleeve is built for everyday use, carefully designed to offer long-lasting protection without adding unnecessary weight or bulk. Every element, from stitching to hardware, is chosen to withstand frequent travel, commuting, and daily handling. It keeps your MacBook Pro secure, so you can move confidently between home, office, and on the go, knowing your device is well-protected in a sleeve made to endure.

Portability in its purest form

This sleeve is intentionally designed to minimize the need for extra bags or accessories. Its slim profile and clever layout allow you to carry your MacBook Pro and essentials together in one refined piece. Slip it easily into a larger bag or carry it on its own as a sleek, minimalist folio. The result is pure portability: everything you need, without excess.

Sophisticated storage compartments

Inside the sleeve, integrated double storage compartments provide space for your daily essentials and more. Cables, small notebooks, or documents can be neatly organized without compromising the slim silhouette. An additional integrated leather card pocket keeps bank-sized cards such as debit, credit, or ID cards securely in place and easily accessible. This thoughtful organization makes the sleeve a functional companion for work, study, or travel.

Custom-machined gun-metal hardware and YKK zipper

The dark gun-metal hardware gives the sleeve a sharp, modern edge that complements the signature black leather. A custom-built zipper by YKK, made from high-quality gun-metal, ensures smooth operation, durability, and secure closure. This precision hardware not only enhances the look, but also guarantees that your MacBook Pro and other contents remain safely enclosed.

Full-grain leather with signature felt lining

Crafted from premium full-grain, vegetable-tanned leather, this sleeve develops a unique patina over time, reflecting your personal use and journey. The interior is lined with Mujjo's signature felt, offering superior padding and a soft, protective surface for your MacBook. The felt is treated to resist pilling and is water-repellent, helping to keep the inside clean and your device cushioned against everyday bumps and scratches. The Low-key Collection aesthetic emphasizes dark, uniform tones with subtle contrasts and sleek lines, creating an understated yet distinctly masculine character.
