- Easy access to ports with non-slip grip and stable feet
- Tested for durability and suitable for medical-grade cleaning

Lightweight protection against everyday scratches and scuffs
The Essential Armor Ice case is designed to help protect your MacBook Air from daily wear, including surface scratches, minor scuffs, and general handling marks. Its lightweight build helps preserve the slim feel of the laptop, making it a practical choice for work, travel, and everyday use.

One-piece hinged construction in impact-resistant materials
This case uses a one-piece hinged design that fits securely while keeping opening and closing smooth and natural. Made from impact-resistant materials, it adds dependable protection without making the device feel bulky or heavy. It is built to support daily use while maintaining a precise and functional fit.

Translucent finish with signature hex pattern for a clean, modern look
The translucent shell lets the design of your MacBook remain visible while adding a distinct Urban Armor Gear look. The signature hammered hex pattern gives the case a refined, technical appearance that feels premium without being overstated. It is a protective case that complements the laptop rather than hiding it.

Easy access to ports with non-slip grip and stable feet
The case is designed to work seamlessly with your MacBook Air, with clear access to all ports so you can connect accessories without interruption. A tactile hinge area improves grip during handling, while non-slip feet help keep the laptop steady on desks and other surfaces. These details support both comfort and everyday usability.

Tested for durability and suitable for medical-grade cleaning
Beyond daily scratch resistance, the Essential Armor Ice case is built for long-term durability. It has been tested to withstand repeated use and is suitable for medical-grade cleaning, making it a strong option for users who value both protection and easy maintenance in professional or shared environments.
