Elevate your workspace and comfort with the Twelve South Curve Riser in Black colour, a premium metal stand designed to lift your iMac, iMac M1, or external display to the optimum viewing level. Drawing inspiration from the sleek, minimalist Curve for Laptops, this black stand boasts an improved ergonomic viewing position and includes a functional storage shelf. It's the touch of sophistication and organization your setup has been missing.

- Enhances viewing comfort by raising your monitor by 10 cm
- Integrated shelf declutters workspace with storage
- Compatible with the Curve for MacBook for a seamless dual-screen setup
- Holds monitors securely with a base up to 10-inches wide
- Ventilated shelf design promotes airflow

Enhances Viewing Comfort

The Twelve South Curve Riser elevates your iMac or external monitor to a more neck-friendly height. By lifting your screen 4.25 inches (10.7cm), it promotes a better posture and can help in reducing strain and discomfort during long working hours, leading to a more comfortable and productive experience.

Integrated Shelf Declutters Workspace

This stand is more than just a support for your monitor; it includes a built-in shelf to help keep your workspace tidy. Store your hubs, hard drives, personal items, and even a Mac mini beneath your iMac or display. By organizing your desk space, the Curve Riser contributes to a cleaner, more focused working environment.

Compatible with Curve for MacBook

The Curve Riser is designed to work perfectly alongside the Curve for MacBook for a sleek dual-screen setup. With similar design aesthetics, the stands boast a cohesive and attractive look, elevating your Macs nearly to the same height and enhancing the overall style of your workspace.

Holds Monitors Securely

Rest assured that your monitor is seated safely on the Curve Riser. Designed to accommodate monitors with bases up to 10 inches wide, this robust stand ensures a stable platform for your iMac or external display, allowing for peace of mind and focus on the tasks at hand.

Ventilated Shelf Design Promotes Airflow

The Curve Riser's storage shelf is not just about organization; it's also crafted with ventilation in mind. This is especially beneficial when housing devices like the Mac mini rely on proper airflow for optimal performance. The design allows cool air to circulate, helping prevent overheating and ensuring your devices run efficiently.

Package includes:

- 1x Curve Riser Black
