- Improves viewing comfort by raising your monitor by 10 cm
- Integrated storage shelf helps keep your desk tidy
- Pairs with the Curve for MacBook for a coordinated dual-screen setup
- Securely supports monitors with bases up to 10 inches wide
- Ventilated shelf design promotes airflow

More Comfortable Viewing
The Twelve South Curve Riser raises your iMac or external monitor by 4.25 inches (10.7 cm) for a more neck-friendly viewing position. This can encourage better posture and help reduce strain and discomfort during long working sessions.

Integrated Storage Shelf
The built-in shelf keeps hubs, hard drives, personal items or a Mac mini beneath your iMac or display, helping you make better use of your desk space and keep your workspace tidy.

Pairs with Curve for MacBook
Use the Curve Riser alongside the Curve for MacBook for a coordinated dual-screen setup. Their complementary designs create a consistent look while raising your Macs to nearly the same height.

Secure Monitor Support
Designed for monitor bases up to 10 inches wide, the Curve Riser provides a stable platform for your iMac or external display.

Ventilated Shelf Design
The ventilated storage shelf allows air to circulate around devices such as a Mac mini. This helps prevent overheating and supports efficient operation.
