Twelve South ParcSlope2 - Black

Twelve South ParcSlope2 is a sturdy metal stand for MacBook and iPad, designed for comfortable viewing, typing and creative work. Its angled design raises your device, while built-in cable management helps keep your desk tidy.

- Raises your MacBook for more comfortable viewing.
- Holds your iPad at a comfortable angle for sketching and typing.
- Improves airflow around your MacBook to help with cooling.
- Keeps cables organised so you can pick up your device and go.
- Features a minimalist design that complements your MacBook and iPad.

A more comfortable view of your MacBook
ParcSlope2 raises your MacBook's screen towards eye level. Pair it with a full-size keyboard and mouse for a comfortable desktop setup.

A comfortable angle for sketching and typing on your iPad
The wrist-friendly 18-degree angle supports sketching, creative work and note-taking on your iPad. Pair your iPad with a wireless keyboard for typing.

Better airflow around your MacBook
By lifting your MacBook off the desk, ParcSlope2 allows more air to circulate around it, helping with cooling.

Built-in cable management
Keep your workspace organised and your cables tidy when you pick up your MacBook or iPad to go.

A minimalist design that complements your devices
With precision curves, distinctive ridges and a matte black finish, ParcSlope2 complements your MacBook and iPad at home or in the office.
