herQs Cozy Heater - Stainless steel

The herQs Heater is a smart upgrade for your firepit that improves comfort exactly where it matters. Instead of letting heat disappear upward, it redirects warmth back down into your seating area, helping you stay comfortable for longer on cooler evenings. Built from durable, heat-resistant steel and designed to fit your herQs fire pit, it adds practical performance without extra fuel or complicated setup

- Directs heat back down
- Keeps legs and feet warmer
- Improves comfort on cold evenings
- Made from durable, heat-resistant steel
- Designed to fit your herQs fire pit

Directs heat back down
The herQs Heater captures heat that would normally rise away from the fire and redirects it downward. This creates a more effective and enjoyable spread of warmth around the fire pit, helping you get more from the heat already being produced.

Keeps legs and feet warmer
One of the biggest differences you notice with the herQs Heater is where the warmth is felt. By guiding heat back into the seating area, it helps keep your lower body more comfortable, especially your legs and feet, so sitting around the fire feels more pleasant for longer.

Improves comfort on cold evenings
For evenings when the temperature drops just enough to become less comfortable, the herQs Heater makes a clear difference. It helps create a warmer, more usable outdoor space, so you can spend more time around the fire without needing to sit as close to it.

Made from durable, heat-resistant steel
The herQs Heater is made from strong, heat-resistant steel for reliable use around high temperatures. This durable construction supports long-term performance and makes it a practical addition for anyone who wants a dependable fire pit accessory.

Designed to fit your herQs firepit
The Heater is engineered to match your herQs fire pit for a straightforward upgrade. There is no technical installation and no need for additional fuel. You simply add it to your setup and enjoy better heat distribution with minimal effort.
