Fully leather-wrapped design for everyday protection and a comfortable grip
The case is fully wrapped in Mujjo's signature full-grain leather, co-developed for a durable finish. Its slim profile follows the contours of your iPhone 11 Pro Max, and the leather feels warm and comfortable in your hand.

Satin-like microfiber lining to cushion your phone
The interior is lined with Japanese microfiber, a thin, strong and lightweight fabric with a satin-like finish. It cushions your iPhone 11 Pro Max and helps protect it from scratches while adding minimal bulk.

Leather-covered buttons for responsive use
The buttons are fully covered in leather for a consistent finish. Their carefully shaped profile is designed and tested during production for easy, responsive operation with tactile feedback. The openings for the camera and mute switch taper inwards for easy access and a clean look.

Raised 1 mm bezel to help protect your screen from scratches
The leather extends 1 mm above the edge of the glass, forming a subtle raised bezel. This helps keep abrasive surfaces away from your screen while maintaining the case's slim, minimalist design.

Develops a unique patina over time
The understated design highlights the leather's natural character. Soft to the touch from the start, the vegetable-tanned leather develops a richer colour and a distinctive patina with use. Marks, stains and scratches become part of its individual appearance.
