Luxurious vegetable-tanned leather finish

The Full Leather Wallet Case is crafted from vegetable-tanned leather sourced from the Netherlands, renowned for its rich texture and environmental sustainability. Over time, the leather develops a unique patina, making your case genuinely personal. The black shade exudes sophistication and timeless style, while the minimalistic design beautifully complements the contours of your iPhone 14 Pro Max.

Integrated card pocket with sleek storage capacity

This case doubles as a wallet, featuring a neatly designed leather card pocket that comfortably holds two to three bank, ID, or travel cards. Say goodbye to bulky pockets and experience stylish convenience for your everyday essentials.

Precision-machined metal buttons for optimal responsiveness

The side buttons of this case are crafted from precision-machined metal to ensure tactile responsiveness and durability. The buttons are meticulously dyed to match the leather, blending seamlessly into the overall aesthetic of the case and ensuring functionality meets style.

Protection-focused design with raised bezels for screen and camera safety

Designed to guard against everyday wear and tear, the case includes a 1mm raised bezel to keep abrasive surfaces away from your iPhone's screen. Additionally, the raised bump around the rear camera protects the lenses from damage, ensuring uncompromised safety without sacrificing style.

Japanese microfiber interior for extra protection and comfort

The case's interior is lined with luxurious Japanese microfiber, offering a satin-like finish that cradles your iPhone with care. This soft yet durable fabric adds an extra layer of protection while maintaining a lightweight and slim profile.
