Full-grain leather wallet folio, inside and out
Journal has a premium full-grain leather exterior and interior, carefully tanned and stitched for a refined finish and a luxurious feel in the hand.

Built-in Drop Guard shell helps protect against bumps and minor drops
A precision-moulded Drop Guard shell securely holds your iPhone XR inside the folio. Designed to absorb and deflect everyday shocks, bumps and minor drops, it helps protect the phone's screen and edges.

Integrated wallet holds 3 cards, with an ID window and cash pocket
Three card slots keep your essentials together with your phone. A dedicated ID window lets you show your identification without removing it, while a full-length cash pocket stores notes, receipts or tickets out of sight. Everything fits neatly into a slim folio.

Hands-free viewing stand for videos, calls and browsing
Journal folds into a stand to hold your iPhone XR at a comfortable viewing angle. Watch videos, browse, join video calls or check notifications while you work, without holding your phone. The folio cover also acts as a privacy and sun shield, helping to reduce glare when taking photos and shield your screen from nearby eyes when you are out and about.

Develops a distinctive leather patina over time
With everyday use, Journal's full-grain leather develops a natural patina. Subtle changes in colour and texture give each case its own character, much like a well-used leather bag or wallet.
