

Twelve South SurfacePad iPhone XR Ultra Thin Genuine Leather Case with Card Slots and Stand is a feather-light, folio-style cover that adds everyday protection and practical features without hiding the beautiful design of your iPhone XR. Wrap your phone in genuine leather, carry your essential cards, and enjoy a built-in stand in an ultra-slim profile that feels more like a fine wallet than a phone case.

- Ultra-thin genuine leather jacket for iPhone XR
- Built-in card slots for ID and bank card
- Integrated stand for hands-free viewing and FaceTime
- Auto wake and sleep cover functionality
- Secure, residue-free adhesive attachment

Ultra-thin genuine leather jacket for iPhone XR

SurfacePad dresses your iPhone XR in a slim, genuine leather jacket that adds a touch of luxury without bulk. The feather-light cover wraps around the front and back of your phone to guard against everyday hazards like keys in your pocket or a countertop edge, while still keeping the sleek form of the iPhone visible and comfortable to hold. This design is ideal if you want protection and style without turning your phone into a thick, heavy brick.

Built-in card slots for ID and bank card

Inside the front cover you will find two discreet card slots, perfectly sized for your ID and a bank card. Combined with Apple Pay, these two pockets are often all you need for your daily essentials, letting you leave your wallet at home. The cards stay secure when the cover is closed, keeping your important items in one slim, streamlined place.

Integrated stand for hands-free viewing and FaceTime

With a simple flex of the back cover, SurfacePad transforms into a convenient viewing stand. Prop your iPhone XR in landscape orientation to watch videos, browse, or join FaceTime calls without having to hold your phone. This built-in stand is especially useful for travel, work, or relaxing at home, giving you a mini display wherever you are.

Auto wake and sleep cover functionality

SurfacePad is designed to work seamlessly with your iPhone XR, automatically waking the screen when you open the cover and putting it to sleep when you close it. This smart functionality helps conserve battery life and makes checking notifications, answering calls, or getting back to what you were doing feel natural and effortless.

Secure, residue-free adhesive attachment

Instead of a bulky plastic shell, SurfacePad uses a special secure adhesive that gently adheres to the back of your iPhone XR. The phone snaps in place cleanly, and the cover stays firmly attached during everyday use. When you decide to remove or reposition the SurfacePad, it peels away easily without leaving sticky residue or marks on your iPhone.
