- USB-A to Lightning cable for charging and syncing Apple devices
- 1 metre braided fabric cable for durability and everyday use
- Integrated rubber ball winder for easy cable management and adjustable length
- Metallic connectors for a secure and dependable connection
- Apple MFi certified for compatible Lightning devices

USB-A to Lightning cable for charging and syncing Apple devices

This cable is designed for Apple users who want a simple and reliable way to charge and sync their devices. It connects USB-A power adapters, laptops and other compatible ports to Lightning-enabled Apple products, making it a practical choice for home, office or travel use.

1 metre braided fabric cable for durability and everyday use

The 1 metre length gives you a comfortable balance between reach and convenience. The braided fabric exterior adds durability and helps protect the cable from daily wear, while also giving it a more refined finish than a standard plastic cable.

Integrated rubber ball winder for easy cable management and adjustable length

The built-in rubber ball works as a cable winder, helping you keep the cable neatly stored when not in use. It also allows you to adjust the cable length to suit your setup, which is useful on desks, in bags and in smaller spaces where excess cable can get in the way.

Metallic connectors for a secure and dependable connection

The metallic connectors are made to provide a stable fit and a dependable connection during charging and syncing. They also contribute to the cable's premium look and solid feel, making it a good option for users who value both function and design.

Apple MFi certified for compatible Lightning devices

Apple MFi certification means this Lightning cable meets Apple's standards for compatibility and performance. You can use it with confidence with supported iPhone, iPad and other Lightning devices, knowing it is designed to work correctly with your Apple products.
