Twelve South PowerCord 3m - Slate

The Twelve South PowerCord 3m (Slate) combines a 30 W USB-C PD charger with a built-in 3 m cable, so there is no separate adapter to keep track of. Its long reach and understated design make it a practical choice for charging at home or at work.

- Integrated 3 m (?10 ft) cable and charger – Keep your device within reach without a separate power adapter.
- Flat braided nylon cable – The fabric-wrapped construction resists tangling and fraying.
- EU plug – Fits standard EU wall outlets, with fixed prongs for a secure connection.
- Built-in safety protection – Helps protect your devices against overheating, overcurrent and overcharging.
- Minimalist Slate/Black finish – Neutral tones complement modern setups and Scandinavian-style interiors.
- Compact, all-in-one design – No separate adapter or additional power supply to carry.

Flexible 3 m reach
The 3 m cable reaches outlets behind furniture or across a desk, giving you more choice about where to place your device.

Durable flat braided cable
The flexible braided fabric cable resists tangling and fraying. Its soft-touch finish is comfortable to handle, and its construction is designed for daily use at home, in the office or on the go.

Smart charging technology
With USB-C Power Delivery (PD 3.0) and Programmable Power Supply (PPS), the Twelve South PowerCord 30 W charger adjusts voltage and current for safe, efficient charging of smartphones, tablets and lightweight laptops.

Safety and reliability
Built-in protection against overcurrent, overvoltage and temperature spikes helps keep charging safe. Reinforced connectors and a robust internal structure support reliable everyday performance.

Designed for modern living
The Slate/Black finish reflects Twelve South's minimalist design. Neutral tones and a sleek profile complement modern homes and Scandinavian-inspired interiors.
