Twelve South Curve Nano - Coastal blue

The Twelve South Curve Nano is a compact, foldable aluminium stand for phones compatible with MagSafe or Qi2. A secure magnetic holder and adjustable viewing angles keep your phone positioned for hands-free streaming, work and video calls. It folds flat and comes with a travel case for easy packing.

- Compatible with MagSafe and Qi2-compatible phones.
- Adjustable viewing angles for portrait or landscape use.
- Durable aluminium construction with a non-slip silicone base.
- Folds flat and includes a travel case.
- Lightweight and portable for work or travel.

Compatible with MagSafe and Qi2-compatible phones
Attach your MagSafe or Qi2-compatible phone directly to Curve Nano’s magnetic holder for a secure hold, with no clips, clamps or tools required.

Adjustable viewing angles for portrait or landscape use
Position your phone in portrait or landscape orientation and adjust the angle for comfortable viewing, whether you’re on a video call or streaming.

Durable aluminium construction with a non-slip silicone base
Made from high-quality aluminium, Curve Nano combines durability with a clean design. Its silicone ring and non-slip silicone base help keep the stand stable and your phone secure, even on smooth or uneven surfaces.

Folds flat and includes a travel case
Curve Nano folds completely flat and fits into the included travel case for compact storage and easy packing.

Lightweight and portable for work or travel
The lightweight design is easy to carry between home, the office and travel destinations, so you can enjoy hands-free phone use at your desk or while waiting at the airport.
