Full-grain leather wallet and folio case for iPhone XR
Journal features a genuine full-grain leather exterior and interior, carefully tanned for a rich look and feel. Precise stitching finishes this refined folio, designed for everyday use.

Integrated protective shell for everyday bumps and minor drops
A precision-fit composite shell holds your iPhone XR securely in place. The rigid inner frame helps protect against everyday bumps and minor drops while keeping ports, buttons and the camera accessible. When closed, the folio cover helps protect the display from scratches in bags, pockets and on desks.

Three card slots, including an ID window, plus a cash pocket
The front cover has three card slots, including a clear ID window for your driving licence or work badge. A full-length pocket behind the slots holds folded banknotes, receipts or tickets, keeping your phone and everyday essentials together.

Built-in hands-free stand for videos and calls
Fold the folio back to create a stable landscape stand for your iPhone XR. Place it on a table, tray or desk to watch videos, join video calls or browse photos at a comfortable viewing angle without holding your phone.

Leather that develops a patina and a folio cover for added privacy
The full-grain leather softens and develops a unique patina over time. Close or partially close the folio cover to help shield your screen from nearby glances. The open cover can also help block sunlight when taking photos, reducing glare.
