Machined-aluminium camera bump for enhanced protection

The Mujjo Leather Case for iPhone 15 is designed to guard your camera lenses using a machined recycled aluminium camera bump. This feature heightens the case's sturdiness in areas prone to bumps and scratches, keeping your iPhone's camera safe and secure while accentuating its premium look and feel.

Premium European leather: luxe and long-lasting

Our commitment to quality is reflected in the selection of our materials. Northern European hides were chosen for their exceptional durability and then tanned in the Netherlands using the DriTan process, reducing water waste. Consequently, your case becomes more than just an accessory; it transforms into a unique piece of art that grows with you, developing an individual patina over time.

Environment-friendly: Made with recycled materials

Sustainability is integral to our business. The metal buttons, camera bump and interior lining in the Mujjo Leather Case for iPhone 15 are recycled. The underlying shell is crafted from polycarbonate; hence, you can enjoy superior protection for your iPhone while contributing to our environment's care.

Enhanced responsiveness with machined-metal buttons

Feel the difference with every click. The side buttons are machined from metal to offer optimal responsiveness. Matching the colour with the case's leather and keeping it in line with our minimalist aesthetic, this feature enhances the user experience.

Japanese microfibre lining

Our Mujjo Leather Case is lined with super-strong, lightweight Japanese microfibre, making it incredibly slim. The satin-like finish offers a luxurious padded comfort for your iPhone.
