Repurposed Materials

Embracing the sustainability ethos, the Horizon MacBook sleeve is constructed entirely from materials given a second life. Each sleeve utilizes 100% recycled fabric, including a recycled zipper and a lining made from discarded materials. This commitment to repurposing extends to using 12 recycled plastic bottles pulled from the ocean, creating a tangible impact on the health of our oceans and planet.

Shock-resistant Construction

Your MacBook deserves the highest care and protection, so the Horizon sleeve boasts a multi-layered defense system. The exterior is crafted from shock-absorbing LRPu memory foam, designed to protect your device from everyday life's unexpected jolts and falls. With this sleeve, you can confidently carry your MacBook, knowing it's shielded from life's knocks.

Perfect Fit Design

Precision is key in the design of the Horizon sleeve, ensuring your MacBook Pro or Air 13" nestles perfectly within its protective embrace. The snug fit minimizes movement and reduces the risk of damage, while the sleeve's contour is crafted to align seamlessly with the unique dimensions of your MacBook model.

Luxuriously Soft Microfiber

To protect against the most diminutive foe and scratches, the interior of the Horizon sleeve is lined with ultra-soft microfiber. This finely woven material is a gentle nest for your MacBook, enveloping it in a smooth embrace that keeps your device's surface pristine and unblemished.

Environmentally Responsible Packaging

True to MW's environmentally conscious philosophy, each Horizon sleeve is encased in 100% recycled cardboard packaging. This is not only an eco-friendly choice but also ensures that the quality and integrity of the sleeve are preserved during transit. The water-efficient production process and use of soy ink affirm MW's dedication to sustainability in every aspect.
