- Effortless setup with a pod-based planting system
- Packed with vitamins A and C for health benefits
- No harmful substances; pesticide and herbicide-free
- Ideal for sunny indoor spots with a high heat tolerance
- Includes a helpful guide for germination, thinning, and pollination

Effortless Setup with Pod-Based Planting System

The Click and Grow system takes the guesswork out of gardening, functioning like a Nespresso or Keurig for plants. Just insert the Red Hot Chili Pepper plant pods into the smart indoor garden and watch them sprout into vibrant chilli plants. It's that easy to bring the heat to your cooking!

Packed with Vitamin A and C for Health Benefits

Reap the rewards of the Red Hot Chili Pepper's nutritional value by growing it in your kitchen. A mere two teaspoons deliver 6% of the daily requirement of vitamin C and more than 10% of vitamin A, making it a superfood that fuels your body while spicing up your meals.

No Harmful Substances; Pesticide and Herbicide-Free

With Click and Grow, you can trust that your Red Hot Chili Peppers are naturally grown without pesticides, herbicides, or other harmful substances. Enjoy cleaner, safer, and healthier eating from the pod to the plate.

Ideal for Sunny Indoor Spots with High Heat Tolerance

The Red Hot Chili Pepper plant thrives in your sunny kitchen window or any spot with temperatures ranging from 20°C to 30°C. It will grow best in these conditions, and you'll have a picturesque garden spot in your home.

Includes a Helpful Guide for Germination, Thinning, and Pollination

Effectively grow your Red Hot Chili Peppers with Click and Grow's easy-to-follow guides. Learn to germinate your seeds quickly, thin the sprouts to one plant per pod, and manually pollinate flowers to ensure a bountiful harvest.
