- Universal Infra-red device control
- Hassle-free remote access with the Woox app
- No hub required
- Smart IR learning

Universal Infra-red Device Control

The Woox Smart Universal IR Remote Control is designed to work with a plethora of devices, amounting to over 8,000 from 2,000+ major brands. Not only does our smart remote streamline your control experience, but it also keeps up-to-date with new IR devices entering the market space.

Seamless Voice Control Mechanism

With the provision to integrate the Woox Smart Universal IR Remote with Amazon Alexa and Google Assistant, controlling your devices is as straightforward as giving a verbal command. Whether it's "Alexa, switch on the TV" or "Google, lower the air condition", you can give instructions seamlessly and hands-free.

Hassle-free Remote Access

Being away from home doesn't mean losing touch with your devices. The Woox Smart Universal IR Remote grants access to your devices, allowing you to control your smart power strip with ease from anywhere, anytime using your mobile device through the free Woox home app.

Convenient Scene Creation

Comprehending that different situations may call for a different combination of devices to be activated, the Woox Smart Universal IR Remote offers the ability to create scenes. This means you can group desired devices to switch on or off simultaneously, creating a personalized control system tailor-made for your needs.

Smart IR Learning

No device left uncontrolled! In case your device's IR Remote is missing from our vast IR database, the Woox Smart Universal IR Remote has an IR learning feature to adapt and control your device efficiently.
