

Pipetto Origami Shield for iPad 10.2" 2019 (Bulk packed) - Black

Built for everyday use and extra peace of mind, this Pipetto protective case combines certified drop protection with a practical 5-in-1 stand design. The magnetic cover supports comfortable viewing and typing, while the shock-absorbing back keeps your iPad protected without hiding the device.

- Certified military-standard drop protection for reliable everyday durability
- 5-in-1 folding stand for typing, viewing, portrait use, and more stable setups
- Magnetic cover with sleep-wake support to help extend battery life
- Shock-absorbing back with a clear window to keep the iPad visible
- Precise fit with full access to cameras, buttons, and charging

Certified military-standard drop protection for reliable everyday durability

The case is certified to Military Standard MIL-STD-810G and has been independently drop tested 26 times with a real iPad inside from a height of 1.2 m onto a hard surface. It's designed for users who want stronger protection than a standard folio case, without adding unnecessary complexity.

5-in-1 folding stand for typing, viewing, portrait use, and more stable setups

The Origami-style folding cover creates five stand positions to suit how you work and watch. It includes an ergonomic typing angle, an upright viewing position, an upright wide-base position for tray tables or less stable surfaces, a low wide-base position for use on a sofa or in bed, and a portrait position suited to video calls.

Magnetic cover with sleep-wake support to help extend battery life

The magnetic front cover supports the iPad's sleep-wake function, putting your device to sleep when the cover is closed and waking it when opened. This can help reduce unnecessary battery drain and is designed to extend battery life by up to 20% in typical use.

Shock-absorbing back with a clear window to keep the iPad visible

The cover is made from PU for a smooth feel, while the back uses shock-absorbing TPU with a clear PET window. This keeps the iPad protected during drops and bumps while still allowing visibility of engraving, personalisation, or asset tags.

Precise fit with full access to cameras, buttons, and charging

Designed to fit iPad 10.2" (2019), the case allows full access to cameras, volume buttons, and charging points. Protection is provided without getting in the way of everyday use.
