Military-Grade Drop Protection
Urban Armor Gear is known for its superior rugged protection, and the UAG Metropolis SE case is built to meet military drop-test standards. This means you can handle your iPad Mini with confidence, knowing it’s protected against accidental drops, bumps, and collisions. Whether you're commuting, traveling, or simply carrying your iPad from room to room, this case keeps your device safe from life's mishaps.

Precision Fit for iPad Mini 7/6G
The UAG Metropolis SE is tailor-made to fit the Apple iPad Mini 7th and 6th generation models perfectly. All ports, buttons, and functions remain easily accessible, ensuring that you won't need to remove the case to charge the device, adjust volume, or even use the Apple Pencil. It's designed to work seamlessly with your iPad, making usage smooth and hassle-free.

Integrated Stand for Hands-Free Viewing
The case features an integrated stand that easily folds out, allowing you to watch videos, work, or take calls hands-free. The multi-angle feature gives you a range of viewing options to find the most comfortable position, whether you're working or relaxing.

Folio Cover with Secure Magnetic Closure
The built-in folio cover not only protects your screen from scratches and dirt but also comes with a secure magnetic closure. The cover stays firmly in place when not in use and offers additional protection for your device during travel, preventing unwanted screen activation or exposure.

Lightweight and Slim Design
Despite its high-level protection, the UAG Metropolis SE maintains a slim form factor, ensuring your case remains lightweight and portable. You’ll barely notice the added bulk as it slides comfortably into a bag or backpack. This sleek design blends well with the modern look of your iPad Mini, offering both protection and style.
