360-degree rotational hand strap and kickstand for secure, flexible use

Stay in control of your iPad whether you are standing, commuting, or moving between rooms. The built-in 360-degree rotational hand strap lets you securely hold your device in one hand, adjusting the angle on the fly for viewing, typing, or capturing content. When you need hands-free use, the integrated kickstand props your iPad at a comfortable angle for work, video calls, or presentations without needing an extra accessory.

Rugged drop protection tested to military standard

The Plasma Series is engineered for serious protection. It is MIL-STD-810G 516.6 certified, meaning it has passed rigorous testing for drops from up to 1.2 meters. The impact-resistant core and reinforced corners help absorb shocks and bumps, protecting your iPad from everyday accidents, whether you are in the office, classroom, hospital, or on the move.

Built-in screen protector and covered ports for all-around defense

Your display and connection points are fully protected without compromising usability. The built-in screen protector shields the touchscreen from scratches and scuffs while maintaining clarity and touch sensitivity. Covered ports, buttons, and speakers help keep dust and debris out, extending the life of your device and ensuring it continues to perform as it should in demanding environments.

Integrated holder for Apple Pencil (1st Gen) and Logitech Crayon

Never lose track of your stylus again. A dedicated holder keeps your Apple Pencil (1st Gen) or Logitech Crayon secure and close at hand, so it is always ready when inspiration strikes or when it is time to take notes. This integrated storage means fewer loose accessories to manage and a more streamlined, professional setup.

Medical grade wipe tested and compatible with UAG shoulder strap

Designed for environments where cleanliness and mobility matter, this case is medical grade wipe tested, so you can safely disinfect it with medical wipes without damaging the materials. It is also compatible with the UAG shoulder strap (sold separately), giving you an easy, hands-free way to carry your iPad during long shifts, site visits, or travel while keeping it quickly accessible.
