- Rugged protection built for daily use
- Wired USB-C connection with no pairing or charging required
- Built-in USB-C hub for charging and accessories
- Full-size spill-resistant keyboard with trackpad
- Flexible design with multiple viewing modes and stylus storage

Rugged protection built for daily use

Built for classrooms, shared environments and frequent transport, this keyboard case helps protect your iPad throughout the day. It is tested to military standards for drop protection up to 2 metres and features a raised screen surround, sealed construction, anti-skid rubber base and a magnetic latch that helps keep the case securely closed when not in use.

Wired USB-C connection with no pairing or charging required

The integrated USB-C connection gives you a stable, direct link between the keyboard case and your iPad. There is no need for Bluetooth pairing and no separate keyboard charging routine to manage. This makes setup faster, simplifies daily use and helps reduce disruptions, especially in school and workplace settings where reliability matters.

Built-in USB-C hub for charging and accessories

The case includes a practical built-in hub that expands how your iPad can be used. The USB-C pass-through port supports charging up to 30 W and can also be used with compatible USB-C accessories. In addition, there is a USB-A port for devices such as a mouse and other HID accessories, along with a 3.5 mm audio jack for headphones.

Full-size spill-resistant keyboard with trackpad

A full-size sealed keyboard provides a familiar typing experience while standing up to heavy daily use. The key design helps protect against spills and reduces the risk of keys being removed, making it well suited for school and institutional use. The integrated multi-touch trackpad adds precise navigation and improves productivity without requiring extra accessories.

Flexible design with multiple viewing modes and stylus storage

The hinged design supports multiple ways to use the iPad, including Type, View, Sketch and Read modes. This gives you more freedom to adapt the setup to writing, browsing, drawing or reading. The case also includes storage for Apple Pencil and Logitech Crayon, as well as an asset tag window with space for custom school or company identification.
