90-degree Connector for Comfort
Safeguard and extend the life of your device with our 90-degree connector design. By hugging the cable snugly to your device, it reduces potential damage and achieves the considerable convenience required for gaming, typing, or charging in the car.

Certified and 100% Compatible
Our cable not only fits every iOS device but is also Apple MFI-certified, offering reliable and efficient charging and data transfer.

Shielded for Minimal Interference
We've expertly encased our cable in aluminum and designed it to reduce electromagnetic interference significantly. Now enjoy faster, more reliable data transfer with fewer disruptions.

HandyStrap Cable Manager
The Moshi Lightning to USB Cable comes with a HandyStrap cable manager to help you keep your cables tidy and free from tangles. It's convenience made simple.

Built for Durability
Our cable is crafted with an anodized aluminum housing for added strength and longevity, ensuring it will stand up to daily wear and tear.
