- Fast, reliable charging for iPhone and iPad
- Ultra-durable double-braided construction
- Highly flexible cable for easy routing and storage
- Designed to withstand more than 30,000 bends
- Certified performance with 2-year warranty

Fast, reliable charging for iPhone and iPad

The Elements PRO USB-C to Lightning Cable is engineered for fast, dependable charging of your Apple devices. Pair it with a compatible USB-C charger to quickly power up your iPhone or iPad, or use it to sync and transfer data at up to 480 Mbps. Whether you are topping up before heading out or transferring photos and files, this cable delivers consistent performance every time.

Ultra-durable double-braided construction

Built strong inside and out, the Elements PRO features a tough double-braided outer sleeve that resists wear, scuffs and everyday stress. Beneath the braiding, reinforced insulation protects the internal wiring against damage from bends, tugs and pulls. The result is a cable you can rely on daily, even in busy households, classrooms and offices.

Highly flexible cable for easy routing and storage

Despite its rugged exterior, the Elements PRO is highly flexible. The braided design allows the cable to bend, twist and fold without becoming stiff or difficult to handle. It slips easily behind desks, into tight spaces and around furniture, and can be loosely coiled into a bag or pocket without tangling or kinking, making it ideal for travel and everyday carry.

Designed to withstand more than 30,000 bends

Every Elements PRO cable is tested to endure more than 30,000 bends, so it can handle constant plugging, unplugging and movement. The robust, bendable connector housings are engineered to protect the most vulnerable points of the cable, helping to prevent fraying and breakage where other cables often fail. This high bend life makes it a smart choice for long-term, everyday use.

Certified performance with 2-year warranty

The Elements PRO range is certified for reliable performance and safety, so you can charge with confidence. It is designed to meet strict compliance standards, helping protect both your devices and your data. Backed by a 2-year warranty, this cable is built for the long haul and ready for your daily charging routine.
