Ultra-slim full-grain leather cover that protects front and back

SurfacePad is a featherlight, ultra-thin leather jacket tailored specifically for iPhone 11 Pro. Crafted from character-rich, full-grain leather, it provides elegant protection for both the front and back of your phone against everyday hazards like countertops, desks, and keys in your bag. Over time, the leather naturally develops a beautiful patina, giving your SurfacePad a unique, lived-in look that reflects your daily adventures. Unlike bulky plastic cases, this slim cover keeps your iPhone 11 Pro feeling sleek and pocket-friendly while adding a refined, premium finish.

Built-in stand for hands-free viewing and video calls

The large iPhone 11 Pro display is made for watching, sharing, and chatting, and SurfacePad is designed to keep up. Flex the back of the case and your iPhone 11 Pro stands up in display mode, perfect for watching movies, following recipes in the kitchen, catching game highlights at the bar, or joining a long FaceTime call. The integrated stand turns any surface into a comfortable viewing station, so you can enjoy hands-free selfies, video chats, or presentations without juggling your phone.

Two card slots to streamline your everyday carry

Inside the front cover, SurfacePad features two precision-cut card slots to simplify what you carry every day. Use them for your ID and a bank card for a night out, or pair them with Apple Wallet to keep most of your cards and tickets digitally on your iPhone while reserving the slots for the essentials you still need in physical form. The result is a slimmer pocket, fewer things to remember when you leave the house, and a stylish alternative to a traditional wallet or purse.

Automatic wake and sleep functionality when opening and closing the cover

SurfacePad is more than just a stylish cover; it is also smart. For compatible models, the case works with iPhone 11 Pro to automatically wake the screen when you open the front flap and put it to sleep when you close it. This subtle convenience saves time and helps preserve battery life, while giving your phone a more book-like, premium feel every time you use it. Few cases offer this level of integrated functionality, making SurfacePad a standout choice for those who appreciate thoughtful design.

Compatible with Qi wireless charging for effortless power-ups

Despite its full coverage and built-in wallet, SurfacePad remains thin enough to work with Qi wireless chargers. You can place your iPhone 11 Pro on a compatible wireless charging pad and power up without removing the case. This means you keep all the benefits of protection, card storage, and stand functionality while still enjoying the simplicity of cable-free charging at home, at the office, or on the go.
