

SurfacePad for iPhone XS Max from Twelve South is an ultra-thin, luxury leather folio that protects your iPhone without hiding its beautiful design. Feather light yet surprisingly practical, it adds front and back protection, essential card storage and a built-in viewing stand, all in a premium leather jacket tailored just for iPhone XS Max.

- Ultra-thin genuine leather folio for iPhone XS Max
- Built-in stand for hands-free viewing and FaceTime
- Two interior card slots for essential cards
- Front and back protection in a feather-light design
- Secure, residue-free adhesive and automatic wake and sleep cover

Ultra-thin genuine leather folio for iPhone XS Max

SurfacePad is designed as a minimalist leather jacket for your iPhone XS Max. Made from genuine leather, it wraps around your phone to add an elegant, tactile finish without bulk. The cover is incredibly thin, preserving the slim profile of your iPhone while giving it a sophisticated, premium look that feels right at home in your hand, pocket or bag.

Built-in stand for hands-free viewing and FaceTime

Flex the back of the SurfacePad and it instantly transforms into a convenient stand. Prop your iPhone XS Max in landscape orientation to watch videos, stream your favourite shows or join FaceTime calls without holding your phone. The built-in stand is seamlessly integrated into the design, so you get added functionality with no extra pieces to carry or attach.

Two interior card slots for essential cards

Inside the front cover you will find two discreet card slots, perfect for carrying an ID and a bank card or other daily essentials. Paired with Apple Pay, these two pockets are often all you need. Travel lighter by leaving your traditional wallet at home, while still keeping your most important cards protected and always within easy reach.

Front and back protection in a feather-light design

Feather light and credit card thin, SurfacePad adds protection where you need it most: the front and back of your iPhone. The leather cover helps shield your screen from keys, counters and everyday hazards when closed, while the back panel protects the rear glass from scratches and scuffs. All this protection comes in an ultra-slim design that slips easily into your pocket or bag.

Secure, residue-free adhesive and automatic wake and sleep cover

SurfacePad adheres securely to the back of your iPhone XS Max, holding firmly in place during daily use. When you decide to remove it or change styles, it lifts away cleanly, leaving no sticky residue behind. The folio cover is also smart: it automatically wakes your iPhone when you open it and puts it to sleep when you close it, helping to save battery and making every interaction with your phone feel more seamless.
