Recycled-material rugged protection with military drop-test rating (up to 4.6 m)
Designed to handle real-world drops and knocks, this case meets Mil-Std 810G 516.6 and is tested for drops up to 4.6 meters. It’s also made using recycled materials, helping reduce waste without compromising on durability.

Built-in magnetic module for easier mounting and everyday use
A built-in magnetic module adds convenience for users who rely on magnetic mounting solutions during work or travel. It’s a practical feature for quick placement and more flexible use in vehicles or work environments.

Lightweight co-molded design with enhanced corner protection
The co-molded build is made to feel secure in hand while staying lightweight for all-day carry. Reinforced corners add targeted protection where devices most often take impact.

Raised camera bezel and inner hex pattern to help absorb impacts
A raised camera bezel helps protect the lens area from scratches when placed on flat surfaces. Inside, the hex pattern is designed to improve shock absorption, helping reduce impact transfer to the device.

Oversized buttons and lanyard card compatibility for practical daily handling
Oversized buttons are designed for a more confident, clicky press, even when working quickly. The case is also lanyard card compatible, making it easier to keep your device close and accessible.
