UAG Monarch Pro Case for Samsung Galaxy S26 Edge - Carbon Fiber

Urban Armor Gear Monarch Pro for Samsung S26 Edge is built for people who want serious protection without sacrificing grip, usability, or style. With a carbon fiber-inspired finish, a multi-layer impact design, and a built-in magnetic module for charging and accessories, it’s made to handle everyday wear and unexpected drops with confidence.

- 7.6 m drop protection with 5X military drop-test standard
- Multi-layer impact protection for real-world drops and daily abuse
- Built-in magnetic module for magnetic charging and compatible accessories
- Secure, tactile handling with contoured grip and oversized buttons
- Raised screen surround and rigid protection plate for added device defense

7.6 m drop protection with 5X military drop-test standard
Monarch Pro is independently tested to withstand drops up to 7.6 meters and meets 5X military drop-test standards (MIL STD 810G 516.6). It’s designed for demanding conditions where your phone needs dependable protection, whether you’re commuting, traveling, or working outdoors.

Multi-layer impact protection for real-world drops and daily abuse
The case combines multiple protective components that work together during impact. A shock-resistant core helps absorb and disperse force, while an impact-resistant rubber surround adds cushioning at the edges and corners. A rigid polycarbonate shear plate helps protect against scratches, dents, and everyday wear, all wrapped in UAG’s signature armor frame for structure and durability.

Built-in magnetic module for magnetic charging and compatible accessories
A built-in magnetic module supports magnetic charging and works with most wireless chargers and magnetic accessories. It’s also compatible with MagSafe accessories and supports Samsung Pay, helping you keep charging and daily tap-to-pay use simple and consistent.

Secure, tactile handling with contoured grip and oversized buttons
The contoured perimeter grip is designed to reduce slipping and improve control when you’re on the move. Oversized tactile buttons deliver a crisp, responsive feel, so you can adjust volume and power with confidence, even when wearing gloves or using the phone one-handed.

Raised screen surround and rigid protection plate for added device defense
A protective screen surround helps reduce the chance of screen contact when the phone is placed face down, while the internal rigid plate adds strength and stability. Integrated lanyard anchor points are also built in for added security and easier carry options.
