- Drop tested for falls up to 7.6 metres and meets 5X military drop-test standards
- Built-in magnetic module compatible with magnetic charging, wireless chargers and magnetic accessories
- Contoured grip, oversized tactile buttons and raised screen surround for confident daily use
- Precise design with easy access to the S Pen and integrated lanyard anchor points

Multi-layer protection with Kevlar® material, a shock-resistant core and a rigid shear plate
The Monarch Pro is designed with several protective layers that work together to reduce damage from drops, impacts and everyday wear. The Kevlar material adds strength while keeping the case lightweight, the shock-resistant core helps absorb impact energy, and the polycarbonate shear plate adds structure and extra resistance against scratches and dents.

Drop tested for falls up to 7.6 metres and meets 5x military drop-test standards
For users who need serious protection, this case is independently tested to withstand drops from up to 7.6 metres. It also meets 5X military drop-test standards, giving you added confidence whether your phone is used at work, outdoors or on the move throughout the day.

Built-in magnetic module compatible with magnetic charging, wireless chargers and magnetic accessories
The integrated magnetic module adds everyday convenience without compromising protection. It supports magnetic charging and works with most wireless chargers and magnetic accessories, making it easier to charge and mount your phone when needed. It also supports Samsung Pay.

Contoured grip, oversized tactile buttons and raised screen surround for confident daily use
The outer design is made for practical handling. The contoured perimeter includes anti-slip grip details for a more secure hold, while the oversized buttons are easy to find and press with a clear, responsive feel. Around the display, the raised screen surround adds an extra layer of protection when the phone is placed face down.

Precise design with easy access to the S Pen and integrated lanyard anchor points
This case is shaped specifically for the Samsung Galaxy S26 Ultra, with precise cutouts that maintain easy access to key functions and the S Pen. Integrated lanyard anchor points provide an additional carrying option for users who want extra security and convenience during travel or active use.
