- Magnetic case compatible with magnetic charging and accessories
- Multi-layer construction for reliable everyday protection
- Rugged outer shell with enhanced grip for secure handling
- Responsive button covers and precise cutouts for easy access
- Tested drop protection for added confidence on the move

Magnetic case compatible with magnetic charging and accessories
The built-in magnetic module makes the case easy to use with magnetic chargers and a wide range of compatible accessories. It is designed to support convenient wireless charging while keeping the case slim, practical and ready for daily use.

Multi-layer construction for reliable everyday protection
The case is built with multiple protective layers that work together to help shield your phone from drops, bumps and daily wear. This construction improves shock absorption and adds structure, helping protect your Samsung S26 in demanding environments as well as everyday situations.

Rugged outer shell with enhanced grip for secure handling
A durable exterior helps protect against scratches and impact, while the textured grip makes the phone feel more secure in your hand. Whether you are commuting, travelling or using your phone on the go, the added grip helps reduce slips and improves everyday handling.

Responsive button covers and precise cutouts for easy access
The case is designed for a precise fit, with tactile button covers that provide a clear and responsive press. Accurate cutouts ensure easy access to ports, speakers and essential phone functions, so protection does not come at the cost of convenience.

Tested drop protection for added confidence on the move
Built to handle real-world use, the case is tested to provide strong drop protection for your device. It is made for users who want dependable protection in a slim, functional form, giving you added peace of mind throughout the day.
